ATTRACTIONS

Yaowarat

Voted as one of the world's coolest roads by Time Out, Yaowarat (aka Bangkok's Chinatown) is the center of Thai-Chinese culture in the city, as manifested through generational food stalls and restaurants like Nai Ek Roll Noodle, Jok One Table, and New Kuang Meng. Come nighttime, both sides of the neighborhood's main road turn into a giant street food hub that welcomes dozens of hungry visitors.

Yaowarat Road

Museum Siam

Formerly the office of the Ministry of Commerce, this 100-year-old building is now Museum Siam, an innovative archive that renders the rich history of Thailand as a fun-filled experience through contemporary presentations and creative features. Its outdoor space also hosts a lot of art and cultural fairs and events.

Sanam Chai Road,
Phra Nakhon, Bangkok

Asiatique

Taking up an expansive location next to the Chao Phraya River, this popular riverside bazaar offers fun and unique shopping, dining, drinking, and entertainment experiences at the likes of bar-on-a-boat Sirimahannop, steakhouse and glass pavilion Crystal Grill House, and Bangkok's answer to the London Eye.

Charoenkrung Road,
Bang Kho Laem, Bangkok

The Grand Palace and Wat Phra Kaew

Situated in the heart of Bangkok's Old Town, these two monumental attractions deserve at least one visit. Get inspired by magnificent Thai architecture while paying respects to the widely revered Emerald Buddha. Don't forget to check out the newly opened Maharaj Tunnel.

Na Phra Lan Road, Phra Nakhon

Benchakitti Park

This thoughtfully designed park in downtown Bangkok gives urbanites a space where they can exercise (with various facilities available), relax, and walk their furry four-legged friends. Drop by at night to see the park all lit up.

Ratchadaphisek Road,
Klong Toey, Bangkok

Bangkok Art & Culture Centre (BACC)

Bangkok's biggest and most beloved publicly-run arts venue hosts an ever-changing line-up of exhibitions and events by local and international artists and organizers. The massive structure is also home to a theater, coffee shops, souvenir stores, and a library.

Rama I Road, Pathumwan,
Bangkok

Jodd Fairs

As far as night market experiences in Bangkok go, the vintage-inspired Jodd Fairs is the most popular one right now. Over 800 vendors comprise the huge space, selling everything from Thai and international street food to handcrafted souvenirs.

Rama IX Road, Huay Kwang,
Bangkok

Mahanakorn SkyWalk

Unforgettable 360-degree views of the Thai capital are promised at this rooftop observation deck at the iconic King Power Mahanakhon. Set on the building's 78th floor and rising up to a height of 314 meters, the glass-floored skywalk allows you to see as far as the curving path of the Chao Phraya River as it runs down to the Gulf of Thailand.

Naradhiwas Road, Sathorn, Bangkok

BANGKOK RESTAURANTS BARS AND CAFES

Supanniga Eating Room, Tha Tien

Set in a two-story wooden house on the banks of the Chao Phraya River, this Thai restaurant serves many rare dishes from Trat and Khon Kaen, such as braised pork with cowa leaves. Come during the sunset hours and enjoy a Thai-inspired sundowner while drinking in one of the best riverside views in town.

392/25-26 Maharaj Road, Phraborom Maharajawong,
Phra Nakhon, Bangkok, 10200
Open Mon-Fri 11:00-22:00,
Sat-Sun 07:30-22:00
Tel: 09 2253 9251

Vaso

Traditional Spanish small plates with modern Asian twists are churned out from a bustling open kitchen at this beloved tapas purveyor in Langsuan, including what Vaso claims is the "World's best El Plato de Joselito Iberico." The Las Gambas Al Ajillo and a paella that's generously loaded with squid are also favorites.

Velaa Sindhorn Village, 87 Langsuan Rd., Lumpini,
Pathumwan, Bangkok, 10330
Open Mon-Thu 12:30-15:00,

Hard-hitting flavors
of the Isaan region

100 Mahaseth

Satisfy your hankering for tongue-burning fare at 100 Mahaseth. Here, every part of a cow or pig is cooked using local Thai ingredients to make a dish that's injected with the hard-hitting flavors of the Isaan region. If there's one dish you have to order, it would be the bone marrow grilled on charcoal and seasoned with toasted sesame, chili, fish sauce, and lemongrass.

100 Maha Set Road,
Si Phraya, Bang Rak,

Somboon Seafood

Since 1969, this Thai-Chinese restaurant has been the benchmark for stir-fried yellow curry crab, which countless other restaurants try to recreate (but don't even come close). Come in a big group to collectively enjoy a seafood feast that includes other must-eat dishes like steamed shrimp with glass noodles, deep-fried fish with sweet fish sauce, and tom yum koong.

169/7-12 Surawong Road,
Suriya Wong, Bang Rak,
Bangkok, 10500
Open daily 11:00-22:00
Tel: 0 2233 3104

Rungreung Noodle

A long queue of hungry diners is a common sight at this long-standing noodle shop on Soi Sukhumvit 26. Order the tom yum, which comes with refreshing hints of lime, nicely flavored minced pork, and aromatic pepper.

10/3 Soi Sukhumvit 26,
Khlong Tan, Khlong Toei, Bangkok, 10110
Open daily 08:00-17:00
Tel: 08 4527 1640

Kway Chap Mr. Joe

Recognized with a Bib Gourmand distinction on the Michelin Guide, this eatery is a street food essential when on a restaurant crawl in Bangkok. Try the kway chap roll noodles in hot peppery soup, which comes with impossibly crispy pork belly bits.

313/7 Chan Road, Wat Phraya Krai, Bang Kho Laem, Bangkok, 10120
Open daily 08:00-16:30
Tel: 0 2213 3007

Nai Uan Yentafo (Sao Chingcha)

For over five decades, this eatery near the Giant Swing has been appeasing hungry bellies with scrumptious yen ta fo (pink noodle soup). Every ingredient and topping that goes into the bowl is delicately made from scratch, from the fish and pork balls, to the pink fermented tofu sauce, to the sweet braised pork.

41 Soi Nawa, Sao Chingcha, Phra Nakhon, Bangkok 10200
Open Mon-Fri 09:00-20:00, Sat-Sun 09:00-16:30
Tel: 0 2622 0701

Here Hai

Treat yourself to Surat Thani-imported fresh seafood in the heart of nightlife hub Ekkamai. Here Hai's crab fried rice sells like hotcakes, thanks to generous portions and its wok-fried flavours and aroma.

112, 1 Ekkamai Road, Khlong Tan Nuea, Watthana, Bangkok, 10110
Open daily 10:00-14:30 and 15:30-17:00
Tel: 06 3219 9100

Go-Ang Pratu Nam

There are many chicken rice vendors in Pratunam, but only few can claim OG status like Go-Ang. This bright pink shophouse attracts hungry locals and foreigners with its soft-boiled chicken, umami-packed rice, and zesty sauce on the side.

962 Phetchaburi Road, Makkasan, Ratchathewi, Bangkok, 10400

RESTAURANTS

Pad Thai Fai Ta Lu

After building his name in the Big Apple, Chef Andy Yang came back to Thailand and opened this respected pad thai chain that serves a higher-end take on the Thai staple. A special wok-frying technique, chewy rice noodles, and a uniquely intense sauce have all contributed to the restaurant's reputation.

115/5 Dinso Road, Baworniwet, Phranakorn, Bangkok, 10200
Open daily 10:00-20:00
Tel: 08 9811 1888

Jeh Jong Fried Pork

Deep-fried pork with mouth-watering jaew sauce is the name of the game at Jeh Jong, the street food vendor in Khlong Toei that's been around for over 20 years. Aside from this popular pork dish, diners also love the stir-fried egg with ham and garlic pork liver.

Located behind Lotus's Rama 4,
Soi Rim Thang Rotfai Sai Pak Nam, Khlong Tan,
Khlong Toei, Bangkok 10110
Open Mon-Sat 05:00-16:00, Sun 05:00-12:00
Tel: 08 3013 2574

Elvis Suki & Seafood

Long before Soi Yotse became a popular destination for street food, Elvis Suki & Seafood already laid claim to this dark alley with its bright neon signage and delicious Thai-style stir-fried sukiyaki. This institutional eatery, which has been around for more than 50 years, is on the Michelin Guide's Bib Gourmand list.

200/37 Soi Yotse, Phlap Phla Chai Road, Pom Prap,
Pom Prap Sattru Phai, Bangkok, 10100
